* CONCLUSION

[19 May 1938 - 10 June 2019]

Girish Karnad was an Indian actor, film director, Kannada writer, playwright and a Jnanpith awardee, who predominantly worked in south Indian cinema and Bollywood. His rise as a playwright in the 1960s marked the coming of age of modern Indian playwriting in Kannada, just as Badal Sarkar did in Bengali, Vijay Tendulkar in Marathi, and Mohan Rakesh in Hindi. He was a recipient of the 1998 Jnanpith Award, the highest literary honour conferred in India.

For four decades Karnad composed plays, often using history and mythology to tackle contemporary issues. He translated his plays into English and received acclaim. His plays have been translated into some Indian languages and directed by directors like Ebrahim Alkazi, B.V. Karanth, Alyque Padamsee, Prasanna, Vijaya-Mehta.

He was conferred Padma shri and Padma-Bhushan by the Government of India and won four Filmfare Awards, of which three are Filmfare Award for Best Director. Kannada and the fourth a Filmfare Best Screenplay Award. He was a presenter for a weekly science magazine programme called Turning Point that aired on Doordarshan in 1991.

[21 Dec 1932 - 22 Aug 2014]

Udupi Rajagopalacharya Ananthamurthy was an Indian contemporary writer and critic in the Kannada language. He was born in Thirthalli and is considered one of the pioneers of the Navya movement. In 1994, he became the sixth Kannada writer to be honored with the Jnanpith Award, the highest literary honour conferred in India. In 1998, he received the Padma Bhushan award from the Government of India. He was the vice-chancellor of Mahatma Gandhi - University in Kerala during the late 1980s.

He was one of the finalists of Man Booker International Prize for the year 2013. He remained a fervent critic of nationalistic political parties until his death from kidney failure and cardiac arrest on 22 August 2014.

Ananthamurthy's works have been translated into several Indian and European languages and have been awarded with important literary prizes. His main works include Prashne, Aakashu Mattu Bekku, Samskara, Bhara, Bharathipura and Arasthe. He has written numerous short stories as well. Several of his novels and short fictions have been made into movies.

Rabindranath Tagore was Bengali polymath who worked as a poet, writer, playwright, composer, philosopher, social reformer and music as well as Indian art with contextual Modernism in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Author of the "profoundly sensitive, fresh and beautiful" poetry of Gitanjali, he became in 1913 the first non-European and the first lyricist to win the Nobel Prize in Literature. Tagore's poetic songs were viewed as spiritual and mercurial; however his "elegant prose and magical poetry" remain largely unknown outside Bengal. He was a fellow of the Royal Asiatic Society. Referred to as "the Bard of Bengal, Tagore was known by sobriquets: Gurudev, Kobiguru, Biswokobi.

The SNLTR hosts the 1415 BE edition of Tagore's complete Bengali works. Tagore web also hosts an edition of Tagore's works, including annotated songs. Translations are found at Project Gutenberg and Wikisource. More sources are below.

[31 July 1880 - 8 October 1936]

Dhanpat Rai Srivastava was an Indian writer famous for his modern Hindustani literature. His pen name is Premchand. Premchand was a pioneer of Hindi and Urdu social fiction. He was one of the first authors to write about caste hierarchies and the plights of women and labourers prevalent in the society of late 1880s. He is one of the most celebrated writers of the Indian Subcontinent, and is regarded as one of the foremost Hindi writers of the early twentieth century.

His works include Godaan, Karmabhoomi, Gaban, Mansarovar, Idgah. He published his first collection of five short stories in 1907 in a book called Soz-e-Watan.

Premchand wrote over three hundred short stories and fourteen novels, many essays and letters, plays and translations. Many of Premchand's works were translated into English and Russian after his death.

Gopinath Mohanty, winner of the Jnanpith award, and the first winner of the National Sahitya Akademi Award in 1955 - for his novel, Amrutara Santana - was a prolific odia writer of the mid-twentieth century. Satya Prakash Mohanty, Professor of English, Cornell University says: "In my opinion, Gopinath Mohanty is the most important Indian novelist in the second half of the twentieth century."

Five of Gopinath's novels, along with a number of short stories, have been translated into English. It is extremely difficult to render in English the nuances of Gopinath Mohanty's language. However, translators have attempted to convey the richness and complexity of the original texts to readers unfamiliar with Odia.

Translated Works are:- *The Survivor
