NATIONAL COMMISSION FOR WOMEN

INTRODUCTION:

The National Commission for Women (NCW) is the statutory body of the Government of India, generally concerned with advising the government on all policy matters affecting women. It was established on 31 January 1992 under the provisions of the Indian Constitution, as defined in the 1990 National Commission for Women Act. The first head of the commission was Jayanti Patnaik. As of 30 November 2018, Ashish Pachori is the chairperson.

National Commission for Women can be considered a supreme body that looks after the welfare of women in society. Reports have been released by the commissions, which collectively displayed the need for setting up a body to review and address women's grievances in the country.

National Commission for Women is a part of the National Commission for Women Act, passed in 1990, and the National Commission on Women was instituted in 1992. Apart from dealing with domestic violence or violence against women, it also acts as an advisor to the
